ISSUED OCTOBER 2011

The winners are announced...

The winners of this year's Travel Agents Choice Awards have now been unveiled. These awards carry special significance in the travel industry as they are the only travel awards entirely nominated and voted for by UK travel retailers.

Full details of the winners are available online at <http://www.sellinglonghaul.com/awards.html>

The awards are designed to acknowledge star performers in the travel industry and are jointly sponsored by leading travel trade publications Selling Long Haul, Selling Short Breaks & Holidays and Selling Cruising, along with online training provider Travel Uni.

Voted for by those really in the know, UK travel agents, the awards cover a broad span of travel trade categories to identify top tour operators, leading destinations, high flyer airlines and airports and strongly performing hotel and resort groups. Agents have also voted for their favourite cruise lines, online training programmes and ground arrangers.

Winners will be presented with a certificate marking their success during World Travel Market.

Selling Long Haul Publisher, Sally Parker, said: "Many congratulations to all those who have been successful in these awards. Ours is an extremely competitive industry and to be acknowledged as a star performer by the retail trade is a great accolade. Our winners clearly have an important edge and we are delighted to give them the recognition they deserve."
